What is Pineal Guard?

How many people can name their pineal? This gland, which is located in the brain and is the size of a small pea, is credited with connecting the soul to the Universe. According to a 2024 Harvard University study, the greatest threat to the pineal is the excessive fluoride found in drinking water. But that's only one of many risks consumers face each day. The chemicals in food, water and air can damage the pineal gland. This makes it difficult for consumers to live the life they desire. Pineal Guard can help.

Pineal Guard is a liquid that provides support to the pineal gland. The 9 natural ingredients in Pineal Guard support the function of almost every organ of the body, while also improving the pineal. The ingredients are all used to manifest.

Pineal Guard Ingredients

Pine Bark Extract

Pine Bark is primarily used to reduce inflammation and swelling. It promotes circulation and is therefore good for the heart. Daily use is safe, and it's a good source of antioxidants. This ingredient is not only anti-inflammatory, but also helps remove toxins and radicals that can obstruct your pineal gland.

Tamarind

Tamarind contains antioxidants that are among the most powerful in the world. This is why it is so effective at protecting the liver and inhibiting the growth of cancer cells. As tamarind removes toxins, it helps to naturally improve cholesterol levels and support heart health.

According to the latest research, tamarind can be a very beneficial ingredient for diabetics. It can lower blood sugar, but should not be taken with medications that lower blood sugar.

Chlorella

Chlorella contains a high amount of iron and folate. This makes it a more nutritious food than other plants. Researchers found that when it was used on mammals, the immunomodulating effect often occurred. It is an antioxidant that also provides anti-diabetic, anti-hyperlipidemic and anti-diabetic benefits. According to research, chlorella promotes heart health and blood circulation due to the iron it provides red blood cells. It increases white blood cell production, which is good for the immune system.

Ginkgo Biloba

Ginkgo Biloba, like many other ingredients before it improves blood circulation. It helps to open the blood vessels and improves circulation without making it sticky. It is antioxidant-rich and helps to eliminate toxins and radicals. It has also been shown to improve eye health, reduce depression symptoms, and regulate mood.

Ginkgo biloba is also reported to reduce inflammation, allowing users to relax and soothe swelling.

Spirulina

Spirulina is a superfood because of its health benefits. It is able to combat many health problems, such as high blood sugar and high cholesterol. It has anticancer properties and fights candida growth. This blend contains antioxidants that complement the other ingredients. It has been shown to improve immunity, lower blood pressure and relieve allergies.

Lion's mane Mushroom

Lion's Mane Mushroom, similar to spirulina helps users regulate their blood pressure and sugar levels. It helps to detect fatigue because it regulates the energy levels. It helps improve heart health because lion's-mane mushroom also affects blood lipid levels. It has been shown in some studies to slow down the aging process and support the health of the kidneys and liver.

The lion's-mane mushroom is available in its natural form, and has been shown to improve cognition among Alzheimer's patients.

Bacopa Monnieri

Bacopa Monnieri has been used to support memory. It has been shown in numerous studies that it promotes verbal learning and memory retention. It also reduces anxiety, removing mental stress which can become overwhelming. It is a great calming remedy, even though it enhances the user's cognition. These benefits are attributed to the triterpenoid Saponins found in Bacopa Monnieri.

This ingredient is also used in Ayurvedic medicine to treat epilepsy. More research is needed to positively link this ingredient to reduced stress and improved brain function.

Moringa

Moringa, a plant that is rich in vitamins and minerals is an excellent source for people to use every day. It reduces high blood sugar and cholesterol levels while fighting inflammation. This improvement in blood flow is also great for the heart and liver. Moringa, the only ingredient in this list that can protect against arsenic toxicology. Moringa is often used by consumers to reduce inflammation and increase amino acid intake.

Neem

The Neem is a tree that was primarily used for medicinal purposes. It's an immunomodulatory drug that helps the body fight diseases such as cancer and infection. Its antioxidant properties can be used to reduce inflammation. It can also be used to fight bacterial, viral or fungal infections. It helps to reduce the formation of cancer cells, although the leaves can be used separately for eczema and ulcers.
