What is the Super Affiliate System?

The Super Affiliate System is a comprehensive training program designed to teach individuals how to effectively generate income through affiliate marketing strategies.

The Super Affiliate System, often referred to as SAS, is a comprehensive course created by a leading affiliate marketer. It aims to assist individuals seeking to develop an online business focused on affiliate marketing through the use of paid advertisements.

This approach markedly contrasts with other programs that focus on the development of an email list. Considering the substantial workload involved, I believe that John's emphasis on paid advertisements is a more effective strategy.

The course has undergone multiple modifications since its initial version was established in 2015. The latest iteration is the Super Affiliate System 3.0, which presents notable differences compared to the original version that was introduced five years ago. Let's set that aside for now, as it warrants a thorough review on its own.

This course provides a comprehensive understanding of essential elements in affiliate marketing, including presell pages, target data, ad swipes, and much more.

Essential resources for affiliate marketers will receive comprehensive focus, including platforms such as Facebook Ads and Google Ads. YouTube advertisements, native advertisements, and similar formats

However, this does not imply that you are receiving all that you are entitled to as a learner. We will discuss the advantages and disadvantages shortly, but it is important to note that the course creator, John Crestani, heavily emphasizes the role of the learner in promoting his products. The discomfort in that area is indicative of broader challenges within the learning process.

For example, during the training, the instructor emphasizes the importance of applying the knowledge you acquire to enhance the effectiveness of his course. It appears to be manageable; however, if it causes any discomfort, it would be advisable to avoid it.

John Crestani – Overview of the Course Instructor John Crestani is a prominent figure in the realm of affiliate marketing and the developer of the Super Affiliate System.

Upon reviewing his life history, it becomes evident that he transitioned from being a medical student to an affiliate marketer. His success can be attributed to his ability to execute campaigns valued at tens of thousands of US dollars (USD) through the application of various traffic methods.

That is the reason he is widely recognized as a Super Affiliate.

He has not succeeded in gaining the affection of everyone who is acquainted with him, however. Numerous individuals assert that the initial phases of his career were marred by deceptive practices, while others contend that his courses do not provide adequate value for their cost.

While there may be some validity to the initial claim—it's unlikely that everyone is mistaken—this evaluation is not meant to criticize or defend individuals. Instead, I encourage us to concentrate on the strengths and weaknesses of the courses, enabling you to make a well-informed decision.

Comprehensive Overview of the Super Affiliate System Course

The entire course duration is six weeks, amounting to 50 hours of comprehensive learning through in-depth videos.

Different segments are referred to as weeks instead of modules. This may present a somewhat perplexing shift from the traditional organization into modules; however, it is a logical approach.

John's approach to organizing the lessons gives the course the structure of a mini-university. This can motivate you to establish discipline and organize your schedules effectively.

Nonetheless, let us examine the arrangement of these modules. Prior to that, there is an introductory module in which John thoroughly explains all aspects of the Super Affiliate System, covering both its fundamental principles and intricate details. While this may be in jest, he sincerely wishes for you to join him as an affiliate promptly!

Transitioning to the “weeks” format, we begin with week 1 right after the welcome module.

Week 1 (Establishing the Framework)

In this section, John thoroughly examines the fundamental principles of affiliate marketing. During your initial week of study, the primary focus will be on understanding the process of joining an affiliate network. In this instance, John prefers to utilize Clickbank as a case study.

Should you find yourself questioning the reasoning behind this, it is important to recognize that Clickbank offers an extensive range of products across nearly every niche. This can be referred to as a repository of products, as indicated by the name.

Another probable explanation for John Crestani's selection of Clickbank is that the platform offers support for nearly all local banks across a wide range of countries. Additionally, new affiliates receive automatic approval on Clickbank. For that, there are no complications.

This clarifies why Clickbank serves as an effective launching pad for your endeavors.

After mastering that, the subsequent focus should be on the sequence of actions required to establish your affiliate business.

It is essential to have a website for affiliate marketing to effectively promote products. You will learn this crucial step once you grasp how to join an affiliate network.

The training on constructing funnels will commence right after this. There are two primary approaches to consider, and you will be introduced to both of them. There are two approaches: the Clickfunnels method and the manual method.

Upon completion of that task, you will gain access to a two-part session focused on the setup of advertisements. In this guide, you will discover the essential steps to develop successful Facebook advertising campaigns.

The points previously outlined are crucial for initiating paid advertising traffic. There is more to consider. We proceed with our progress in the second week.

Week 2 of the Google Ad Campaign Training program
If you are new to utilizing paid advertisements in affiliate marketing, here is a brief overview: Google Ads plays a crucial role in aligning your advertisements with targeted keywords. Your advertisements will appear when individuals enter those specific terms in their browser's address bar.

However, John Crestani's course lacks a comprehensive lecture on this topic, particularly in the Google Ads Search Setup section of the module.

The content addresses fundamental aspects of Google Ads, including the establishment of a keyword search campaign, location targeting, device targeting, and the implementation of ad split testing.

Key aspects such as the explanation of keyword match types, the differences between auto bidding and manual bidding settings, and the rationale behind negative keywords have been entirely omitted.

Therefore, it may be necessary for you to enroll in supplementary courses to address those gaps. The cost of John's course is considerably elevated, leading to a negative assessment.

Nonetheless, the various aspects of Google Ads are sufficiently addressed. The tutorials on Google Display Ads and AdWords Conversion Pixel Setup offer a wealth of valuable information.

The next step involves establishing YouTube Ads, as discussed in Week 3.

Week 3: Configuration of YouTube Advertising

I did not identify any factors that would disqualify the learning process in this context. The tutorials meticulously cover every aspect of establishing effective YouTube campaigns.

You will receive valuable insights on establishing your own YouTube channel, should you not already have one.

Week 4 (Advanced Advertising Strategies)

As we enter the fourth week, the course will focus on uncovering the intricacies of persuasive advertisements.

Advertisements influence individuals' thoughts and feelings, which explains the inclusion of concepts such as “engaging the primal instincts” and “strategies for building trust” in the module.

There is more to consider. Subjects such as copywriting and ad compliance are thoroughly examined.

The primary observation regarding this module is that the videos tend to be quite brief, particularly the ones focused on copywriting. That may not hold significant weight, as copywriting relies more on practical application than theoretical instruction.

Week 5: Focus on Presell Pages and Scaling Strategies
Tutorials on presell pages are essential; any course lacking them is not worth pursuing.

It is indeed fortunate that we are identifying it in this location. You will appreciate how John offers templates for presell pages and demonstrates the process of split-testing them.

Week 6 (Choosing the Right Product)

This is where John provides guidance on identifying the appropriate niche, selecting suitable products, and related topics.

As a novice in the affiliate space, you may find yourself uncertain about which niche to pursue initially. That matter will also be resolved.

Information Hub

This is not a standalone module; however, as indicated by its name, this section encompasses all the resources necessary for you to begin applying the knowledge you have acquired.

For instance, you are already familiar with the process of setting up Google Ads, YouTube Ads, and Facebook Ads from the second and third weeks of the program. Within the resource centre, you will find a targeting data tab that provides precise information on the individuals to focus on, along with the specific pages and communities on Facebook that should be targeted.

The resource centre provides you with the advertisements you will be utilizing, which can be found in the ad swipe tab. All preparations have been completed, and they are now poised for utilization.

Additional tools that may be beneficial to you encompass pre-designed presell pages, affiliate networks like Clickbank that we previously examined, along with advertising networks and legal resources.

All of that indicates that you are not left in a vulnerable position in any manner. You will possess everything necessary to commence your endeavors effectively.

Super Affiliate System Network

This initiative is structured as a Facebook group, overseen by John and his team of assistants.

The Facebook community serves to unite students enrolled in the course and is exclusively accessible upon purchasing the course.

Certainly, you will undergo a series of inquiries prior to your entry; however, once you are inside, there will be no urgency for you to leave. Engagement is encouraged; feel free to seek clarification and obtain constructive feedback whenever you encounter challenges in the course material.

Super Affiliate System Assistance

The Super Affiliate System offers an excellent support framework.

The support team is consistently accessible around the clock and frequently provides prompt responses to inquiries. You may initiate a live chat or opt to send them an email for further assistance.

The weekly call is another valuable component of the support system. This provides you the opportunity to engage directly with John Crestani on a weekly basis and discuss any challenges you may be encountering with the system.

What is the cost associated with the Super Affiliate System (SAS)?

The Super Affiliate System Course may present a significant financial commitment. Priced at $997, this course ranks among the higher-end options available.

The course is available for a one-time payment at the stated price, or you have the option to divide the total into three installments until the fee is fully settled. This is a single payment that grants you lifelong access to the course.

There are indeed indicators present in this situation. It is important to note that even upon completing all the modules, you may still find it necessary to seek additional courses to cover the areas where the SAS may be lacking or entirely absent.

The second consideration is that it may not be particularly suitable for those who are just starting out. As someone new to this field, it's important to understand that even after setting aside nearly a thousand dollars for the course itself, you will still need to budget for additional expenses, particularly for the advertisements you will need to run, in addition to the in-house ads included in the course.

In summary

Indeed, we have thoroughly examined the inquiry regarding the legitimacy of the Super Affiliate System and its standing as a top contender in the field.

To begin with, I assure you, this is not a scam. However, it may not be the most optimal situation either. Considering the significant cost of nearly a thousand dollars and the understated promotional tactics, it may be advisable to explore other options.

Conversely, features such as a resource center designed to facilitate your progress, the opportunity to earn while you learn through course sales, and an efficient support system may encourage you to remain engaged.

The decision rests entirely in your hands. You are faced with two distinct realms. What is the extent to which you can forgo one while still reaping the advantages of the other?

In my professional opinion, this course is beneficial for novices seeking to gain initial exposure to affiliate marketing.
