Cheapest Days to Fly on Delta Airlines

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday Are the Cheapest Days to Fly

According to travel data and airline pricing patterns, the cheapest days to travel on Delta Airlines are typically:

- Tuesdays
- Wednesdays
- Saturdays

These mid-week and weekend +1(844) 376-0587 dates are less popular for business and leisure travelers, meaning lower demand +1(844) 376-0587—and lower fares on Delta Airlines.

 Tip: Booking a Tuesday or Wednesday departure can reduce your ticket price by up to 20–40% compared to Sunday or Monday.

$ Why Are These Days Cheaper on Delta Airlines?

Delta, like most major airlines, +1(844) 376-0587 adjusts its pricing based on demand. Here's why Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Saturdays are typically more affordable:

- Fewer business travelers: Most business travel happens between Sunday and Thursday.
- Low weekend demand: Saturday is a low-demand day for round trips.
- Flight load balancing: Delta often discounts tickets midweek to fill empty seats.

Need help comparing flexible dates?  Call Delta Airlines at +1(844) 376-0587 to speak to an agent who can help you find the lowest fare day for your destination.

Days to Avoid for Cheapest Delta Flights

To maximize your savings, try to avoid flying on:

- Fridays
- Sundays
- Mondays (especially mornings)

These days are peak travel times, +1(844) 376-0587 especially for business travelers and weekend trips, which drive prices up significantly. +1(844) 376-0587 Delta adjusts its fares accordingly, and prices on these days can be up to 50% higher than midweek options.

How to Find the Cheapest Delta Airlines Fares

1. Use the “Flexible Dates” Feature

On Delta.com, use the Flexible Dates search to compare fares across an entire week or month.

2. Book in Advance

Booking 3–6 weeks ahead usually gets you the best rates. For peak seasons or holidays, book earlier.

3. Travel During Off-Peak Seasons

Flying in:

- January to mid-March
- September to early November
Often results in cheaper Delta Airlines flights, especially midweek.

4. Use SkyMiles for Cheaper Redemptions

If you're a SkyMiles member, +1(844) 376-0587 redeeming miles for midweek flights can cost fewer miles than weekend travel.
